

RegEd Receives Double Nomination for 2012 NCTA 21 Awards

November 5, 2012

RALEIGH, NC: RegEd, the leading provider of technology solutions for compliance and risk management for the financial services industry, today announced its recognition from the North Carolina Technology Association (NCTA) as a finalist in two different categories of the 2012 NCTA 21 Awards program. These are considered North Carolina's most prestigious technology awards.

RegEd has been nominated for the Best Product or Service Company, which recognizes a technology company that has developed, implemented or adapted a technology product or service to better serve individuals or business consumers.

In addition, RegEd has been nominated in the Mid-Size Company category as an outstanding technology company distinguished for its product innovation, market penetration, sales growth and employment expansion. The nominations honor companies who are characterized by excellence, innovation and leadership.

"Clients and partners have reached out to NCTA to nominate us for these prestigious awards. This recognition by clients and industry peers is a great honor and we appreciate their support," said John M. Schobel, CEO of RegEd.
